Historic Hutton Settlement

9907 E. Wellesley Ave. • Spokane Valley, WA

The year 1897 was an important milestone in the lives of the Huttons when, along with five others, they invested in the Hercules Mine. After pouring money and hard work into their "hole in the ground," they struck it rich in June of 1901. As millionaires, day-to-day life for the Hutton's changed, but their values and compassionate spirit remained intact.

In 1906, they moved to Spokane so Levi would have a broader field for his investments and May would have more political, social and literary opportunities. Levi began a string of businesses, invested in others and built the Hutton Building. The fourth floor of that building served as their home until 1914, when they built a house on the south side of Spokane. May, all six feet and 225 pounds of her, shook Spokane Society. They were not used to a woman who dressed outlandishly and spoke her mind. May died in 1915 at the age of 55.

Since his childhood as an orphan it had been Levi's dream to build a home for children. It was to be a "home," not an institution. It had to be a secure place where families could stay together and not be shifted about. In 1919, the Hutton Settlement was born. The following year, Levi was recognized at the Shrine convention by the national Imperial Potentate who said, "If one man could build and do for children what Mr. Hutton has done, what could 500,000 Shriners do?" Consequently, at the next convention, a plan was initiated to start the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children.
